Bob:

Do you have any update on timing. I am losing creditability with the Bank and their comfort and interest in the property. I thought we were looking at possibly the end of this month.

I'm at a loss as to what to say. Any update would greatly be appreciated.

Mr. Werner:

I was hoping to get some sort of update or possible feedback from you all regarding the status of the dock site. I have been put under mounting pressure from the bank with their concerns on the project.

Any update or information on timing of outcomes would be greatly appreciated.

Jonathan Carroll

Sorry to continue to harass you, but I was hoping you could give me a little insight to the timing of Brian Mueller's conclusions. I have been struggling with keeping things all together with the Bank, they have been getting a bit anxious as of lately.

Any form of update would be greatly appreciated.
